

"KURRENT KOMMENT"

GATHERED TOGETHER FOR FUTURE CAREFUL CONSIDERATION.

Opinions as to the results of the recent Tidal Wave and Complete Destruction—What Will the Harvest Be?

What's the use higgling over the result in Ohio? Let the Democrats have the whole shooting-match.

You can mark it down as a certainty that as soon as Congress commences to tinker with the Tariff, the wages of American workmen will be reduced with a rush.

The Washington representative of the Associated Press figures out the next House as follows: Democrats 213, Republicans 129, and 10 Fusionists or Third party men.

Sig. H. Marcus, of the firm of Henry Marcus & Son, Baltimore, wrote to Barnesville, O., Tuesday with the intention of buying $50,000 worth of wool from a local dealer. When he heard the result of the election he immediately left town, saying that he did not care to buy any more wool.

The Democratic Returning Board of Boyd county has issued a certificate of election to George H. Mead for Circuit Clerk, though the returns show that Steele, Republican, was elected by 19 majority. Honest people of all parties denounce it as an outrage, but it goes all the same.

The Globe-Democrat of St. Louis says that in 1896 the Republicans will sweep everything. The free silver and wild-cat currency program of the Western and Southern ends of the Democracy will be antagonized by the Eastern end and by Cleveland, and the party will be split for the time being. Thus 1896 will be a great year for the Republicans.

The Falcon Iron and Nail Company of Youngstown, O., which has been engaged in constructing a mammoth tin plate plant, has decided to stop work after completing the present plans, and will not erect the machinery. This is but a natural sequence of the policy which proclaims that Americans shall buy their tin in England instead of buying it in America.

James H. Watt, President of the Watt Mining Car Wheel Company, Barnesville, O., offers to take a complete inventory of their manufacturing establishment, and sell the same for seventy-five cents on the dollar on account of the Democratic victory. The works could not have been bought Tuesday for $1 50 on the dollar. The company employs over a hundred men, and does a world-wide business.

The report comes from Middleport, O., to the effect that the firm of King, Gilbert & Warner intend to make reductions in the wages of their employees from five to ten per cent. as the result of Tuesday's election. It was further reported that the company had countermanded orders for millions of tons of steel since Tuesday. As a large number of workmen voted to bring this about, it is hoped they will be pleased with their success.

The strong probability of an extra session of Congress immediately following the inauguration of the President-elect is a subject of general conversation in Washington. A special session of the Senate is always called at the beginning of a new administration to confirm the members of the Cabinet and the new diplomatic representatives of the United States abroad. But the present election having turned on questions of domestic policy it is said to be obvious to experienced political leaders of all parties that an extra session of both Houses of Congress will almost inevitably result. Secretary of the Treasury, John G. Thompson, who is a Republican, and the judgment of the majority of the McKinley bill, and the result must be accepted as the will of the people that a different policy shall be put into effect. The report that the President-elect will be inaugurated in Washington, in the afternoon, adding that the people will expect this to be done without unnecessary delay.

Remains of Robert Tarleton Brought Yesterday—Particulars of the Wreck.

The remains of Robert T. Tarleton, who lost his life in a railroad wreck at Greeley, Kansas, on last Friday night, arrived in Maysville yesterday morning and were immediately taken to Shannon, where they were buried.

Nate Suit was the only one of the party who came home. Mr. Bratton staid with Eliza Payton, whose arm was broken and was otherwise injured, though not seriously.

From Mr. Suit's account the accident was the result of gross carelessness on the part of the railroad people. Messrs. Suit, Bratton, Tarleton and Payton, accompanied by J. T. Long, were in the caboose of a freight train, intending to go to the residence of James Cumbers, a former citizen of this county, where they were invited to take supper. It was just about dark and the train on which they were was standing still at the Greeley Depot waiting for a passenger train to pass.

The passenger came but the switch had been left open. Mr. Suit was the first one to notice the near approach of the flying train and called the attention of one of the conductors to the fact. He gave a glance to the rear and cried out: "It is on this track. Jump for your lives." The whole party rushed for the door and all got off in safety except poor Tarleton. He was a second too late and was crushed and mangled beyond recognition, the entire top of his head being taken off.

Mr. Payton made the jump all right but was injured by some of those following jumping on him. Robert T. Tarleton was unmarried and about 45 years old. He had been a prosperous citizen and was very popular among his acquaintances.

Helped With His Own Wife. Some months ago THE LEDGER noticed the clandestine marriage at Ironsboro of Harry Jones to Miss Clara Morgan, daughter of a C. and O. Railway official, and that a few hours later the parents of the young lady forcibly took her away from her husband. Thus matters remained until Saturday, on which day the Morgan lady was taken to a matinee, leaving Clara alone at home. Mr. Jones got a straight up to the situation and it was not long till he got a horse and buggy, called for his bride, and they are now beyond the immediate reach of the irate parents, just as happy as a Democrat.

American Cholera. From The Daily Herald, Washington, Wash.—"T. C. Burnett, the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, was taken violently ill at Clearbrook. He had all the symptoms of Asiatic cholera, and for an hour or two it was feared he would die. They finally gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which revived him with a physician's aid." That's probably what the manufacturers of that medicine want you to believe. Send for a physician but give them medicine until the physician arrives. If the doctor becomes convinced in this emergency must administer the remedy will be in great demand because it is always being depended upon. Prescribed by Power & Reynolds, Druggists.

BULLETS FLY.

Homestead Thrown Into a Panic by a Fight

Between Non-Union Men and Carnegie Strikers.

Two Colored Workmen and a Unionist Became Engaged—A Crowd Gathered and the Fight Became General.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Nov. 14.—Not since the famous fight of July have flying bullets been so plentiful as Sunday afternoon. Inside of twenty minutes over fifty shots were fired, and Fourth avenue was in a wild state of panic and disorder.

Rumors are plentiful of persons being wounded, but the only ones serious hurt, apparently, are three men named McFadden, Jones and Richard. They have all flesh wounds. The two colored men are also badly beaten. The fight started on Fourth avenue about 4:30 o'clock.

Two colored men who work in the mill were walking toward the mill, when they met a crowd of strikers. They replied, and the striker knocked one down.

With the same characteristic gathering which has always characterized Homestead, so far as the entrance of crowds is concerned, about twenty persons, including children and women, assembled in a few minutes. The colored men fought hard, but stones began to fly, and the men were beaten back. The crowd was then in a wild state of excitement and opened fire. By this time there were fully 500 persons on the street, and the bullets whistling over their heads started the panic.

Three men knocked down the second colored man, and when he arose he had two revolvers in his hands. He started to run, shooting over his shoulder. He did so. It is said a boy received a wound in the leg, but his name is unknown.

By the time the colored men had reached City Farm lane six other colored men came along and were assaulted. They all drew guns and shot. The Fourth avenue in the direction of McClure street, near where their lodging house is situated. Some one hurled a stick, which hit Washington Hall on the head.

He opened fire and so did the others. In a minute the air was full of bullets and in front of the crowd there was a terrific crowd rushing into houses for shelter, or dodging up alleys. A woman, too frightened to run, stood on the street as the bullets whistled over her head. The crowd was then in a wild state of excitement and opened fire. By this time there were fully 500 persons on the street, and the bullets whistling over their heads started the panic.

While the colored men were running, many dodging into the houses and stones at them. When the colored men reached their house they ran in and barred the door. In a minute the house was surrounded by an angry crowd, who soon tore down the fence, and shattered every window with stones.

When the deputies and borough officers arrived some persons were meeting that they leave the house, and some began to yell "Let's lynch the nigger black snake." This taken up, and cries of "Hanging them" were heard on all sides. The officers went in to arrest the colored men, and they started them building a barricade, terrified and expecting to be killed.

One man, however, was not afraid, and said he would be the first to leave. He was taken on his word, and was taken with a crying fan, cutting his head. The deputies tried in vain to keep the crowd away while they took the man to the lock-up, but he was hit several times.

Stones were also hurled and Deputy Montgomery was struck. The officers then drew their revolvers and announced that if any more stones were thrown they would have to open fire. A stone threw a rock which crashed through a window already shattered.

He was arrested, but the authorities seemed almost puzzled by the crowd. It was over two thousand persons gathered. Several other colored men were beaten on the way to the lock-up.

About this time another alarming report was circulated through the crowd. It was in effect that the colored non-unionists living on Shanty Hill hearing of the assault upon their brethren in town were about to come down and rescue them. This was really the case.

Over fifty of the colored men were ready to make an onslaught upon the men's notion, and the coal and iron police had much difficulty in restraining them.

Marion Conrad, another non-unionist, owns a house above Ann street, on Fourth avenue. During the shooting a large crowd gathered in front of his house and when he came out they threatened him. Conrad is sworn in as a deputy sheriff, and he stood in line with a revolver in either hand, and said he would shoot the would-be rescuers as they arrived, thus keeping the crowd back an hour, when he was already shattered.

After all the colored men had been removed from the boarding-house the excitement subsided as rapidly as it began, and the crowd was dispersed. Peter McFadden, who first engaged the colored men in a fight, was shot through the left arm and the arm was injured. James Jones, his friend, who came to his assistance in the attack, had an escape from death which was miraculous. He had climbed to the top of the colored men's house.

THE UNION PRAYER OF A COLORED CHURCH IN THE CITY OF PHOENIX.

COLUMBIA, O., Nov. 14.—There was a commotion, followed by an uproar, in the little chapel at the penitentiary Sunday morning, when old Mose Allen, a colored, long-legged prisoner, from South Carolina, arose to pray. The prayer-meeting was opened in the usual way by Chaplain Dudley, and several of the convicts followed with brief words of prayer, and it was while his head was bowed in reverence, and all heads turned to look at him, that the old Mose grasped his opportunity to speak a good word in anticipation of Thanksgiving. This is the way he did it.

Dear, beloved brethren and sisters, I thank de Lord permittin me to tum der heart of in to you. I thank de Lord for de beautiful Thanksgiving Day is near at han. On dat day some folks will eat turkey; some chicken; some eat duck; some eat lamb and some eat sheep. But as Niggers we would like dat good ole pork. Kotelim, im, bring 'im, take der heart of in, put 'im out dere, and let 'im from bring 'im in. I'm in der. Stuff 'im, like turkeys, and let 'im in. Put 'im in der pan. Put sweeten taters, round dat pork. Put 'im in der stove. Let 'im, you, tinkin der heart of in, put 'im out dere, and let 'im from bring 'im in. I'm in der. Don't denit in wile as 'ot, fo' Christ's sake, Amen."

At the conclusion of this unique prayer there was an outburst of wild laughter from the prisoners. Chaplain Dudley stared aghast but said not a word.

A KEYSTONE TOWN

Captured by Tramps and a Number of Houses Looted.

HAZELTON, Pa., Nov. 14.—A gang of tramps swooped down on White Haven Sunday morning, looting a number of houses, and, for a time, had the town completely under their control.

The tramps, who were a number of men, came to White Haven and quartered themselves in the Lehigh Valley sand house. Nightly depredations were committed, and the town was in a state of alarm.

Later Monday afternoon arrived in town and also took quarters in the sand-house. Saturday night a concerted raid was made by the tramps, and they took the town by storm.

Six houses were entered simultaneously. In some cases revolvers were used to persuade the owners to hand over their valuables.

In a short time the village was aroused. The robbers, however, were well armed and in the end they succeeded in reaching the mountains and escaped in the darkness.

PLEADED ABOARD.

Cleveland's Election Regarded as a Good Thing for England.

London, Nov. 14.—The Daily Telegraph publishes a number of interviews on the result of the American election with the representatives of various trade interests of Great Britain.

The president and secretary of the Sheffield chamber of commerce and the heads of various firms in that city are represented by telegrams at the Cleveland victory, but not sanguine of any immediate result in the way of tariff reduction. The cotton trade, however, Liverpool made it apparent that it had interest in felt there in the result and it is the chief topic of discussion at the cotton exchange and among the frequenters of other business places in that city.

Liverpool shipowners, especially, have suffered from the McKinley law. In addition to the reduction of the exportation of woollen, other articles, like tinplate, formerly sent to Liverpool to be shipped are now shipped more cheaply from Cardiff and other ports nearer the centers of the iron and steel trade. The exportation to Liverpool being thus curtailed. In some quarters the hope is expressed that, although the McKinley law will be amended, some temporary modification may be made in favor of English goods. In the chemical trade, according to one interview, a revival of business is expected as a result of the democratic victory.

POWDER LETS GO.

A Tremendous Explosion at Niagara Falls.

A Man Horribly Mutilated.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 14.—One of the most serious explosions of powder in the power house of Douglas & Johnson, the canal and tunnel contractors, exploded Saturday morning.

The bodies of Wayland A. Jones and the immense works of these contractors, was killed, and William Wier, an engineer, and Sherman Smith, a fireman, were badly cut about the face, head and body.

Hobson was found lifeless, with a fearful gash in his throat, at the foot of the boiler. He had been ordered to run from the boiler house when the explosion occurred, and he was picked up about fifty feet.

It is thought that the explosion was caused by a fault in the boiler. The other men, Wier and Smith, fleeing for their lives, were caught by flying pieces of timber and rock.

For a distance of a mile around, windows, sashes, etc., were blown out. When the explosion occurred, the men in one house a little while was rendered unconscious from the shock. The explosion in and about the canal and tunnel works, many persons were injured.

The damage to buildings and houses in that part of the city is extensive, and will cost up into the thousands. The explosion occurred at the Niagara Falls Co.'s plant were torn out. The fronts of the stores and houses on Buffalo street were badly shattered.
